Whoville on A Platter: The Green Hideaway Opens its Doors in Queens, NY

Elevating the World of Food with a Little Christmas Magic.

Be transported back to your childhood with the opening of this grinch themed restaurant, The Green Hideaway. Inspired by the holiday classic How the Grinch Stole Christmas. Bask in your favorite Christmas indulgence every season. Become enchanted by the who-like customs, gum-drop tables, colorful Christmas ornaments, and candy cane lights.

“We wanted a place that felt magical and brought adults and children together for such a beloved story, almost like Disney... but without needing to auction off your glass slipper to afford it” said the anonymous 20-year-old entrepreneur L.M. The inspiration behind the restaurant stemmed from L.M rewatching the 2018 version of The Grinch during last year’s holiday season in child-like awe dreaming to be there with the characters. The restaurant has taken this borough by storm. Some opinions of fellow New Yorkers are “Why shouldn’t we have fantastical places to go to in this life,” said fellow patron Maddie Sinclair.

Few of the most special things about this restaurant is the story time before dinner of the grinch classic followed by a viewing of one of the three grinch movies every three hours. Another being the replication of the actual grinch cuisine like the infamous Who-pudding and Who-roast beef from the films. As well as the sheer fact that L.M is a small business owner who wants to share her love of food and movies with her community. The future is bright for movie/book themed restaurants, and The Green Hideaway is just the first of many.
